[Intro]

Bb Cm	F
Bb Cm	F
Dm	Eb
Bb	F

[Verse 1]

Bb Cm F
 We had an apartment in the city,
 Bb Cm F
 Me and Loretta liked living there.

Dm Eb
 Well it's been years since the kids had grown,
 Bb F
 A life of their own left us alone.

Bb Cm F
 John and Linda live in Omaha,
 Bb Cm F
 And Joe is somewhere on the road.

Dm Eb
 We lost Davy in the Korean war,
 Bb F
 And I still don't know what for don't matter anymore.

[Chorus]

Ab Bb
 Ya know that old trees just grow stronger,
 Ab Bb
 And old rivers grow wilder every day.
 Dm Eb
 Old people just grow lonesome
 Bb F Bb
 Waiting for someone to say Hello in there, hello.

[Intro]

[Verse 2]

Bb Cm F
 Me and Loretta we don't talk much more,
 Bb Cm F
 She sits and stares through the back door screen.
 Dm Eb
 And all the news just repeats itself
 Bb F
 Like some forgotten dream that we've both seen.

Bb Cm F
 Someday I'll go and call up Rudy,
 Bb Cm F
 We worked together at the factory.
 Dm Eb
 What could I say if asks What's new?
 Bb F
 Nothing what's with you? Nothing much to do.

[Chorus]

Ab Bb
 Ya know that old trees just grow stronger,
 Ab Bb
 And old rivers grow wilder every day.
 Dm Eb
 Old people just grow lonesome
 Bb F Bb
 Waiting for someone to say Hello in there, hello.

[Intro]

[Verse 3]

Bb Cm F
 So if you're walking down the street sometime
 Bb Cm F
 And spot some hollow ancient eyes,
 Dm Eb
 Please don't just pass them by and stare
 Bb F Bb
 As if you didn't care, say Hello in there, hello
